Civilians Move Out of Far East... Crisis Moves in

Japan matches Nazi threats in Europe with ominous action in the Far East. Her battle fleet, top, concentrates off the French Indo-China coast. Americans in the area were ordered to speed up the general evacuation started several months back, lower left.

Australia counters the Japanese move by reportedly sending some of her bombers, above, to British Malaya, north of heavily-defended Singapore, after an emergency meeting of her war council. The Netherlands Indies government orders its shipping into neutral ports. Observers believe all these actions together mean the long simmering eastern war kettle is getting nearer to boiling over.

The War Today

NEW
British authorities have announced an active-service test of what may prove to be an extremely important weapon, an undescended device which apparently enables the pilot of a fighter aircraft to follow his adversary in the dark.

Notice that the weapon had been tested appeared during the week-end with a report a fighter pilot had followed on the tail of a German raider for 10 minutes and then shot him down with only a single burst of machine-gun fire.

SUCCESSFUL
If the new weapon is as successful as the test indicates, it may do much to rid Britain of the annoyance of German air raids at night.

There are increasing signs, too, that Britain's air strength is growing. Whenever the weather is penetrable the Royal Air Force pounds cross-channel "invasion ports" and industrial Germany and the scope of the raids appears to be growing.

BANGED
The Royal Air Force, increasingly active of late, banged channel ports and the industrial district of the Ruhr during the week-end, piling bombs into districts it has blasted week after week.

The Air Ministry announced five planes were missing after the week-end raids, an unusual total which may indicate either a greater scope on the part of the raiders or the development of a new German anti-aircraft weapon. It is more likely to have resulted from increased scope of operations, because returning pilots almost certainly would have been able to describe any new weapon directed at them.

INITIATIVE
In the current European war situation one significant factor stands out: Events believed to be forcing Germany to new and drastic action in the Balkans or elsewhere are not of German but of British, Greek and United States making.

From the standpoint of strictly military reasons, there would be ground to doubt that Berlin would order an immediate invasion of England or of Bulgaria or Yugoslavia or both, with or without the consent of the latter two.

Experts seem to feel that Germany must move without delay. If she waits too long for favorable weather conditions her Axis mate, Italy, may be beyond help. It is to be recalled that the final German offensive of the first Great War was launched in France on March 18, 1918.

The Battle of Britain, so styled at the time by Prime Minister Churchill, began June 18, 1940. The sweep of circumstance throughout the eight months since that date has been against Germany and even more against Italy.

CONFIDENCE
Except for the toll that Nazi aircraft, submarines and surface raiders are taking of British shipping in the Atlantic, none of the war developments of those eight months tend to lessen confidence in Britain or in the United States that Britain can hold out.

Assured of the vast "arsenal" in America the Washington administration has undertaken to provide, Britain now seems utterly confident of final victory, not merely of staving off a Nazi all-out attack.

That was the burden of the Churchill radio appeal to America for the "tools" of victory.

FORCED
All of these considerations are factors tending to force Germany to action even before weather guides anywhere in Europe signal a favorable outlook for large-scale war operations.

The stuff of a crisis is at hand, a crisis forced upon Germany. Only her decision is lacking to touch it off in days or weeks.

Barrett Directs Health Commission

Chairmanship of the B.C. Health Insurance Commission is remaining vacant for the time being, but Dr. W. T. Barrett, vice-chairman, is directing affairs of the commission, Hon. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary, said today.

The chairmanship was vacated by Alton Peables, who went east as executive director of the unemployment insurance scheme.

HELD GOLD SMUGGLER—Leo E. Morland, 39, Vancouver, B.C., metallurgist, held at Seattle charged with attempting to smuggle $54,000 in gold across the border into the United States. He said the gold represented savings of a lifetime.

Final Bulletins

NIGHT RAID ON LONDON

LONDON (CP)—A night air raid alarm for London capped a day of sporadic German aerial thrusts against England which may have been restricted by the weather or by design.

Gunfire was heard in some London districts.

While the early night alert was still on for the capital, the Ministries of Air and Home Security announced that "only a small number of enemy aircraft have crossed our coasts during daylight today and none of these came very far inland."

Willkie Coming?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wendell Willkie is being asked to attend a district convention of the Rotary International in Victoria in May, it is understood.

No Training

OTTAWA (CP)—Report of the special committee which investigated the Oriental situation in British Columbia, tabled in the Commons this afternoon, recommends that for the present Canadians of the Japanese race should not be called up for military training.

The report finds that "there is no evidence that the Japanese population of Canada has been engaged in any disloyal or subversive activity."

Negligence Charged

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. George V. Richardson, master of the 24,289-ton liner Manhattan, was charged today with having been negligent when the ship grounded near West Palm Beach, Fla., last January 12.

9 SHIPS SUNK

LISBON (AP)—The German attack on a British convoy last week was reported in dispatches from Funchal, Madeira, tonight to have sent nine of the vessels to the bottom.

This was the figure given by survivors taken to Funchal aboard six other ships of the convoy which have reached that island port.

(The Germans had claimed 14 were sunk and one left to pick up survivors.)

Girl Shot

FRANCOIS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—Phyllis Harrison, 15, of Wistaria, was accidentally shot in the hip with a .22 rifle today while handling the gun to her cousin. The two were riding horses at the time.

In another accident, three-year-old Margaret Spanie broke her leg while sleigh riding on Uncha Mountain.

Take War Booty

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony (CP)—Large stores of war material fell into the hands of the South African troops who last week captured Chisimaio, important port of Italian Somaliland, it was announced officially this evening. Listed in the booty taken were a number of heavy coast defence and anti-aircraft guns.

Building Shelters

NEW YORK (AP)—The Australian radio announced that Sydney today started construction of 13 public air raid shelters and that acting Prime Minister A. W. Fadden would call an early conference to discuss "financial responsibilities for air raid precautions."

NEW CUTOFF PLAN FOR MALAHAT

Provincial government road plans for development of the Malahat Drive include a major six-mile cut-off that will eliminate the Mill Bay section from the main highway and remove a large number of twists and steep grades from the northern part of the Malahat, it was learned today.

The announced road program calls for a $100,000 expenditure on regrading and widening of the Malahat in the vicinity of the lookout and some work will be done in laying out the new cut-off.

The major road projects and surfacing this year will be largely done by contract, government sources state.

Canada Cuts $18,120,000 From Non-war Expenses

OTTAWA — Expenditures of $433,131,000 covering all requirements except war are provided for in the main estimates for the fiscal year starting April 1, 1941, tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon by Finance Minister Ilsley.

This is a reduction of $18,120,000 from the non-war expenditures authorized for the current fiscal year, which will end March 31, and a reduction of $92,140,000 for the total for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1940.

To Provide Money For Job Insurance

Items which are new or heavily increased from the current year include the government's contribution under the Unemployment Insurance Act, $8,000,000; an increase of $6,934,000 in interest and other public debt charges; the decennial census $2,750,000, and cost of administration of the Unemployment Insurance Act, $2,700,000.

Other items are increased as follows: Post Office services, $1,923,000; Maritime Freight Rates Act, $1,450,000; old age pensions, $612,000; subsidies on movement of coal to central Canada, $500,000; and administration of the excess profits and national defence taxes, $300,000.

The estimates tabled today are distributed as follows: Ordinary account, $417,103,000; capital account, $3,453,000; special account, $11,042,000, and government-owned enterprises, $1,533,000.

$2,886,350 Allotted For 1941 Census

In a summary accompanying the estimates it was emphasized that of the total to be appropriated, $269,102,732 is for costs which are considered "uncontrollable."

These include interest on the public debt and other debt charges which are estimated at $151,039,000 for the next fiscal year, first Great War Pensions, $39,600,000; old age pensions, $31,945,000; care of returned soldiers of the first Great War, $14,321,000, and a number of other items.

Most notable among the decreases is an item of $14,738,000 for government-owned enterprises, largely represented in the Canadian National Railways deficit.

No deficit is expected next year, the statement said. Last year this vote was $15,000,000.

Brindisi, Sicily Airdromes Blasted

CAIRO (AP)—British general headquarters here today declared there are no Italian soldiers left in Egypt, the Sudan or Kenya Colony "except as prisoners."

Referring to the fall of Kurmuk, a strategic post on Ethiopia's western frontier with Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, announced yesterday, the high command said, in effect, that now all Italian invaders in the three zones had been repulsed, killed or captured.

There was a continued dearth of reports on the situation in northern Africa, where Britain's offensive toward Tripoli, capital of Libya, represents the deepest penetration of the Italian African empire.

"In Libya and Eritrea," the communiqué said, "the situation remains unchanged."

Forces Drive Toward Cheren

In Eritrea, northernmost part of Italy's east African domain, the British offensive is centring on Cheren, gateway to Asmara, Eritrean capital, 42 miles away.

Aside from the thrust at Kurmuk, the British forces are driving into Ethiopia on the road to Gondar. There, "in the area east of Lake Rudolf, our troops continue their penetration," the communiqué said.

In Italian Somaliland, southernmost segment of Italian east Africa, the Italian forces now have been driven back to the north-south line of the Juba River, about 100 miles within that colony.

British reports said South African troops, besides taking Kurmuk, had overrun an area of 10,000 square miles in Italian Somaliland.

Brindisi Hangars Fired By Bombs

Several hangars at the airdrome at Brindisi, important southern Italian port, were set afire in British air raids Saturday night, Royal Air Force headquarters here announced today.

The communiqué also reported fires and explosions on airdromes at Catania and Comiso in Sicily, where German dive bombers are based. These also were raided Saturday night.

Fliers Pace Advancing Troops

Communiqués issued yesterday here and at Nairobi, in Kenya Colony, credited the Royal Air Force and the South African Air Force with paving the way for troops' advances in the Sudan region and Somaliland.

The Cairo communiqué said R.A.F. bombers attacked Italian troop concentrations and motor transports in Eritrea.

South African fliers harassed Fascist forces withdrawing be-

Labor Department estimates are down $8,546,000; public works, $3,328,000; pensions and national health, $2,406,000, and mines and resources, $485,000.

There are decreases in expenditures under 18 headings and increases under 10 headings. The heaviest departmental increase was $7,510,000 in finance, largely accounted for by the increase in interest and debt charges.

The largest decrease is in the labor department, where the estimate is $8,546,000 less than for the current year.

Heaviest spender will be the finance department, where the total is $29,291,000, of which three-quarters is required for interest and debt charges.

Other large items are estimated as follows: Pensions and national health $56,783,000, post office $40,655,000, labor $17,995,000, transport $17,193,000, mines and resources $16,590,000, national revenue $13,163,000, agriculture $13,134,000, public works $12,289,000, trade and commerce $10,208,000.

There is a reduction of $75,000 in the vote for marketing agriculture products, but an increase of $250,000 each in the items for prairie farm assistance and improvement of cheese and cheese factories, bringing expenditure for these services respectively to $500,000 and $250,000.

Grants to the city of Ottawa in lieu of taxes and to the national battlefields commission are continued in the amounts of $100,000 and $75,000 respectively.

An item for relief settlement agreements with the provinces is dropped from $500,000 to $75,000. The vote for development of tourist highway routes is decreased from $390,000 to $13,000, and the vote for improvement to main tourist routes leading from the United States boundary drops from $180,000 to $11,000.

Smaller Vote For Publicity

A total of $214,000 is cut off the appropriations for exhibitions, publicity and advertising in the United Kingdom, and for publicity advertising in Canada and abroad other than in the United Kingdom.

Public works expenditures are restricted to maintenance and operation only, as was done a year ago, and there is a reduction from $15,618,000 voted for the current year, to $12,289,000.

Kenya, Sudan Cleared of Italians

CAIRO (AP)—British general headquarters here today declared there are no Italian soldiers left in Egypt, the Sudan or Kenya Colony "except as prisoners."

Referring to the fall of Kurmuk, a strategic post on Ethiopia's western frontier with Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, announced yesterday, the high command said, in effect, that now all Italian invaders in the three zones had been repulsed, killed or captured.

Japs Warned Away From Singapore

Ships need pilots now to guide them safely through a new minefield to enter Singapore Harbor. Above is a glimpse of part of the water-front at the great port known as "the Crossroads of the World."

SINGAPORE (CP)—The government has announced it is mining further notice the British Malay's eastern or China Sea coastal waters, covering the approaches to this huge naval base from Manila and south China points.

The announcement said the mines would extend from the Singapore latitude northward 60 miles and eastward approximately 30 miles.

The notice warned ships sailing in this area to apply to British naval authorities at Singapore for the route otherwise they would navigate at their own risks and peril.

The new action extends minefields protecting the immediate sea approaches to Singapore laid at the outbreak of the war.

(Perhaps significantly, an editorial in the London Sunday Times foreshadowed the mining announcement with this recollection of the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-04:

("She (Japan) gained an immense advantage at the outset of her historic conflict with Russia by entering Vladivostok harbor without a declaration of war and torpedoing at anchor the fleet of her unsuspecting enemy.

(She has not forgotten that stroke. Nor shall we forget it.)
Japan is reported to have strengthened her land, sea and air forces in French Indo-China.

As a partner in the Axis tri-power treaty, observers presume she would time any offensive of her own in Asia with whatever drive the Axis might launch in Europe.

The Japanese press reported under Bangkok, Thailand, date-lines rumors of an impending clash between Britain and Japan.

Enemy Suffers Enormous Casualties

Greeks Drive Italians From Mountains

ATHENS (AP)—Greek troops, pounding at Italian positions behind Greek and British air attacks, were reported today to have forced the Fascists from a number of strongholds and mountain peaks in fierce bayonet fighting on the central Albanian front.

Allied aviation was credited with greatly aiding the ground forces, whose offensive now is in its fifth day. Repeated bomb and machine gun attacks were reported on Italian gun positions, military stores, bridges and crossroads.

PLANES DISAPPEAR

Italian fliers have shown virtually no activity in recent days, reports from the front said, leading to speculation Mussolini's air force might have been seriously hampered by heavy air raids of the past few days.

Italian casualties in the central sector were declared to have been so high the effective in some companies were reduced to 20 or 30 men and a few noncommis-sioned officers. Other badly demoralized units were reported captured or scattered.

R.A.F. headquarters announced a "highly successful" raid was carried out Saturday night on the Brindisi airfield, in Italy, by British heavy bombers despite heavy anti-aircraft fire. Participating pilots said their bombs were seen to burst on hangars, administrative buildings, seaplanes and other aircraft.

Several fires were started in this attack and a particularly heavy explosion was reported on the mainland, opposite Lazaretto Island.

Other bomber formations escorted by fighter planes yesterday concentrated attacks on Italian positions at Buzi, north of Tepeleni, on the Albanian front.
Direct hits were reported on gun placements and military buildings.

At Laitza, further raids were carried out and there bombs burst among a large tent camp, motor transport concentrations and troops. After bombing these targets, the planes returned to strafe them with machine gun fire.

ITALIAN CLAIMS

ROME (AP)—The Italian high command issued the following communiqué Monday:

"On the Greek front fighting continued yesterday, especially in the sector of the 11th army. Our air detachment intensely bombed enemy bases, communication lines and defence works and scattered and machine gunned at a low altitude troop concentrations and supply columns. One enemy plane was shot down.

"In a raid on Brindisi carried out by the enemy on the night of February 15, it was ascertained that another plane was shot down in addition to those already reported in yesterday's bulletin."

30,000 Driven From Homes

Hurricane Sweeps Spain, Fire Rages in Santander

MADRID (AP)—The San Sebastian radio reported today that 30,000 persons were forced from their homes by a gigantic fire which swept through Santander yesterday and today in the wake of a hurricane which took at least 62 lives in Spain and Portugal.

The flames were still blazing today, but fire fighters were believed to be gaining the upper hand.

Among hundreds of buildings reported destroyed or badly damaged in the Bay of Biscay port city were the Bank of Spain, the cathedral, the government revenue office and the customs house.

Money and other valuables were said to have been removed from the bank building, of recent construction, before the flames reached it. The cathedral, a Gothic style structure, was built in the 13th century. Much of the residential and commercial area surrounding it was destroyed.

The Observatore Romano's comment appeared to be carefully worded. The rumor which drew its fire was a report which tended to indicate Papal sympathy for the Axis cause.

The rumors which Observatore Romano denounced are:

1. That Pope Pius had said
Europe must adjust itself to a New Order.
2. That the Holy See has long been opposed to the democratic form of government.
3. That the situation of Catholics in Germany has been improved.
4. That Papal representatives have encouraged "troops of one nation which went over to the flag of another belligerent nation."
5. That the Pope favored France making an immediate peace treaty with Germany "to avoid complete ruin."

Appeal Starts With Geography

The appeal of Bloedel, Stewart
& Welch Ltd. against a $9,594 damage award to the Elk River Timber Co. Ltd. as the result of the conflagration which swept the Campbell River area in July, 1938, opened with a fish story and continued with a lecture in geography before the Court of Appeal this morning.

Senator J. W. de B. Farris,
K.C., who, assisted by his son John, is conducting the case for the appellants, was outlining the area affected on one of a series of maps spread on easels around the courtroom.

He pointed to a town on Campbell River, reminding Chief Justice M. A. Macdonald he would recollect it as the place where he,
the chief justice, had landed a big fish.

"Yes," the chief justice replied.
"It was a little bigger than you."
Taking a ruler, Senator Farris outlined on the maps the various parts of the country involved in the fire. He sketched the holding of the Elk River Timber Co.
Ltd. to the south of Campbell
Lake, those of the appellant, Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd.
north of that body of water, and extending eastward to the sea at Menzies Bay. The fire, he said, had started in a cold deck on branch 2 of the appellant's railway line running parallel to Gosling Lake, north of Campbell Lake. The closest donkey engine used to stack the felled and bucked logs was some distance away, he said.

He continued with a description of the logging operations, weaving them into his picture of the region on July 5 when the fire broke out.

to sustain the judgment of Chief Justice Morrison following jury trial at Vancouver in 1940, are aerial fighter of all time who hails from Nanaimo, are forecast by

"H.M." writing in the Winnipeg
Free Press. At the present time the former island flier is directing the aerial attack which continues to smash Italian resistance in North Africa.

"For more than two months
Britain has soared again in North Africa," writes H.M. "Brilliant tactics in the fighting in the air against the Italians are said by military commentators to excel
the tactics first used by the German Luftwaffe. But for us these tactics take on a more personal interest because a Canadian is held directly responsible for them.
They are commanded and planned
by Raymond Collishaw.

"More than 10 years ago he was admitted, after six years of continuous aerial warfare, to be the most experienced aerial fighter in the world. When he returned from that long spell of active service to England he was given much to do. He was enlisted in devising the tactical methods that give the present Royal Air Force its effectiveness in aerial warfare.

"Collishaw has not alone been a skilled fighting pilot and a commander who made his squadrons forces of destruction. He has become the master tactician in aerial warfare. He has been allowed free rein because General Wavell has known him for years and Air Chief Marshal Longmore relies on his unerring ability.

"Collishaw's operations are brilliant because they are far flung without a wasteful flight. The Italians had more flying equipment than had the British before the repulse from Egypt was begun six weeks ago. But the Italians have not been in the air in anything like the strength they could have been, although more so than might be imagined from the running accounts of the crises of their coast towns. They lost the control of the air because Collishaw destroyed their airdromes and equipment and supplies.

"This is some of the aerial fighting planned and commanded by Raymond Collishaw that has warned the powers that a new marshal of the air has appeared.
His rank is Air Commodore, which is an irony where so many commanders have little commands without any operational responsibilities. He got his last decoration 19 years ago. But Canadians may expect soon to hear of him being promoted to sit among the Air Marshals, fighting leaders of the great R.A.F.

Collishaw is 48 years old. There is time yet for him to take the very high rank and occupy the high places in the Royal Air Force for which he seems destined."

responded with the world-famous London

KILLED IN CRASH

CALGARY (CP)—Crushed in the telescoped wreckage, Harold Vivian George Thurston, 37, Langdon farmer and member of a pioneer Alberta family, died of injuries shortly after his car had crashed with terrific force into the rear end of a street car here.

Two Calgary men riding in the smoker of the car, Thomas Waite, 51, and Andrew Smith, 50, were slightly injured. They and two other men sitting in the smoker were hurled to the floor by the impact, and Waite was thrown clear through the smoker door.

HOW TO GET A $100 LOAN WITHOUT ENDORSERS

You can borrow $100 without guarantors if you can pay back $7.78 a month—No credit investigation among friends or relatives—Quick, private service

WOULD you like to get a cash loan without having to ask a favor of friends or relatives? At Household Finance you can borrow $20 to $500—without endorsers or guarantors—if you can make small monthly payments on your loan. You get your loan on your own signature (husband and wife sign together)—in a brief, private transaction. This spares you the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you.

Payments to fit your budget

You may repay your loan in convenient monthly instalments arranged to fit your own budget, spread over as many as 15 months. Or, you may repay sooner to reduce the charges.

Suppose you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which best suits your convenience. You will find, for instance, that monthly payments of $7.78 each will repay your loan in full in fifteen months. Or, you may wish to repay sooner—say twelve monthly payments of $9.46 each.

Whatever the payment plan you choose, the payments shown in the table, when made on schedule, repay everything, including all charges. You pay nothing more.

NEW TANKS TESTED

OTTAWA (CP)—Several tanks have been built in Canada so far for test purposes, Munitions Minister Howe said in a statement today.

"These include a new model which is distinctly Canadian in every respect and which has a Canadian-built engine," he said. This tank was designed by engineers of the Department of Munitions and Supply and the Defence Department.

Mr. Howe also said armor plate of high quality is being made in Canada for the first time in preparation for large-scale production of tanks in the Dominion.

"While tooling-up is progressing rapidly in the shops where the tanks are being assembled, Ontario steel mills are busily engaged in producing the required armor plate and armor plate castings," the minister said.

Mr. Howe said orders have been placed in Canada for two types of tanks, and at least 10 companies will participate in the armor plate operations. All major parts except the engines and transmission will be made in Canada, including the guns.

New Methods Against Blitz

British Night Fighters Gaining More Success

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry news service indicated today that Britain has developed a method by which fighter pilots can both locate and follow invading planes by night.

Heretofore the biggest problem of night fighters was to find their adversaries and then keep them in sight. In a description of the shooting down of three German bombers over Britain Saturday night, the news service said:

"A Heinkel III was spotted 15 miles from the English coast. The fighter pilot got on the enemy's tail and began a process of 'stalking' which kept him going around in circles for nearly 10 minutes."

MORE ACTIVE

British night fighters recently have been increasingly active as compared with last fall when the Nazi raiders began using "blitz" tactics in raids on Britain. British night fighters then were seldom referred to, and the defence was restricted to anti-aircraft fire despite many brilliant, moonlight nights.

The news service's comment was the first in which a night raider was reported "spotted" and consistently, successfully followed by a fighter.

The Heinkel pilot, the news service said, apparently was unaware the British fighter was on his track.

"The fighter lieutenant followed him as the enemy crossed the coast at nearly 14,000 feet," the service said. "Then he closed in and gave the Heinkel a long burst. The Heinkel dived and was lost to sight."

JETTISONS BOMBS

"A little later the pilot saw a batch of incendiary bombs apparently being jettisoned, and a minute or two afterwards there was a huge orange flame as the aircraft struck the ground and was burned out."

"When he was spotted, the Heinkel pilot was just going into a gentle turn," said the flight lieutenant. "Round and round he went with me on his tail and he suspected nothing. I got into position and as the enemy pilot turned to cross the coast I closed in and gave him a burst."

"The gunner must have been killed, for there was no return fire. This night fighting business is becoming rather fascinating. It is perhaps more tiring than day fighting, but it is most interesting work."

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A light earthquake which shook houses and rattled light fixtures was reported by residents from scattered sections of the city shortly after noon yesterday. No damage was reported.

Tories Won't Mention National Government

By NORMAN MACLEOD
OTTAWA — As the curtain rolls up today on another act of the parliamentary drama, Conservative circles intimate, not only support for the administration's war effort so far, but also insistence upon an all-out war effort, and refusal to be satisfied with anything less. There will be no criticism of the closest possible rapprochement with the United States in the interests of material aid in the war.

Leader Hanson's aim will be to justify the faith of the repatriated Tories who met recently in secret in Montreal and Toronto and concluded that the Conservative Party was worth saving.

Nothing, it is stated, will be heard during the session from Conservative benches about national government. With the party preparing to travel under its own steam once more, Prime Minister King will be left to carry on a party government, with the understanding that when he fails or gets into difficulties, he shall accept the penalty of such a course and not be rescued by any coalition. From this time on the cardinal purpose back of the Conservative effort will be to build the party into a suitable alternative, when the time comes, to the reigning Liberal regime.

IN FULL AUTHORITY

Mr. Hanson, who has been the central figure in rallying old-line Tories to the party standard once more, with assurances of financial support for reorganization purposes, becomes a person of real authority in the House group. He is the regent, as it were, carrying on until a permanent party chieftain is chosen some time next year—and in full control, meanwhile, of the new organization effort that is on foot.

So long as there was no party organization worthy of the name, the position of Conservative House leader was one of the least enviable in all Canadian politics. It carried no real authority with it. The most insignificant backbencher could challenge its incumbent with impunity, and, as a matter of fact, it is common knowledge on Parliament Hill that the Conservative group has acted as often in defiance of the Hanson leadership as in accord with it.

With Mr. Hanson in definite control of party reorganization—even temporarily—this situation will change completely. He will have a real chance to demonstrate his mettle as a leader. He has no permanent aspirations in the post whatever and that he will be the most relieved individual in the party when he is able to turn the reins over to qualified hands. This, however, will not be for at least one, and more probably, two sessions.

We are in a time of revelation and a time when the big military and economic and spiritual issues in the world are being settled in God's own way. It is a day of revelation for the people at the present time accepting without question the teachings from the Holy See at Rome. The hierarchy there is deceiving the masses in no uncertain way and God tells us of Israel and those of the deceived Catholic masses what to do in Revelations chapters 17 and 18. The German-Russian chapters of Ezekiel 38 and 39 tell of the final fate of the totalitarian powers. A-1, B-2, C-3... Z-26, is the alphabet of God-26. Ezekiel 38 Gomer (58); German (58).

Finds War's Real Heroes In England's Home Folk

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canadian civilians in England as well as Canada's troops are standing up well under blitz conditions, according to Brian Tobin, British United Press staff correspondent, who arrived here yesterday from London.

"Canadian women in London are doing a grand job of providing hospitality for the Dominion's soldiers," Tobin said. Many were there when the war broke out and decided to stay and see it through. Others came over with the definite intention of doing war work. Co-operating with the existing British institutions they are doing much to help the boys from home in their new environment."

Tobin sailed for England last September on one of the 50 United States destroyers traded to Great Britain for air and naval bases. He was present in London during the heavy October raids and the later fire blitzes.

"It's become hackneyed to say that Britain can take it," he commented, "but the fact is as true as ever. I had a front seat view at the greatest war in history and the heroes of that war are the men and women of Britain who are determined that nothing will do them down."

READY FOR MORE 'COVENTRYS'

The British people expect there will be much in store for them than they have yet experienced, and do not overlook the fact that there may be a Coventry every night when the spring offensive starts, Tobin said. They have, however, unbreakable faith in their fighting men, and their own courage, he added.

The biggest thrill, Tobin remarked, for travelers returning from the London front line is to see bright lights at night. "When you have been used to groping in the blackout for several months you come to have a better appreciation of the benefits of city lighting."

Rationing is far from being a hardship in England yet. The blackout is still public annoyance No. 1 for the British people," Tobin said. "But it was good to get real cream in real coffee again in a St. James Street restaurant this morning."

CANADA IN LONDON

Canadian soldiers on leave in London who call at the clubs organized for them, can count on hearing the Canadian accent and getting Canadian style food. The Beaver Club, which numbers several Canadian women on its staff, advertises "Real Canadian flapjacks and maple syrup," an attraction few Canucks can resist, he said, "but that coffee..."

Canada House, hit once or twice without serious damage, is carrying on. Roof spotters there and at British Columbia House keep watch for raiders and warn staffs when to go down to the shelters, Tobin explained.

Tobin left last night for his home in Victoria, on leave before taking up a new assignment at Halifax.

SERADA BEATS LOFTUS

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Nick Serada of Winnipeg Saturday night won a 10-round decision from Johnny Loftus of Calgary in the first professional boxing card staged here for several years.

Loftus, a member of the No. 4 Petrol Company, held a wide margin in the first three rounds of his fight before Serada was able to master the bobbing and weaving tactics of the soldier.

NONCOMBAT WORK FOR MENNONITES

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Rev. B. B. Janz, minister of the Mennonite church at Coaldale, 10 miles east of here, and a leader of the faith in western Canada, said the Mennonites consider it a duty to respond to any call of the government for their young men to serve in noncombatant activities pertaining to the war.

The minister said they are willing to wear uniforms and go into camp, but are opposed on religious grounds to bearing arms in the war.

"They considered it an obligation when called by the government to serve as stretcher-bearers, ambulance and hospital workers," he said.

Explaining that scores of Mennonites were subscribing systematically to a noninterest-bearing loan, Mr. Janz said that "very often the cash is not at hand, hence the government has arranged that farmers may deliver wheat to the elevator over and above the quota as payment for their loan."

"We feel this loan is the best way in which we may help the government to alleviate the distress and human suffering due to war," Mr. Janz continued. "We must set up committees and a canvass is being made from house to house."

R.C.A.F. Casualties

'Except As Prisoners'

BRITISH GENERAL HEADQUARTERS IN
Cairo announced today there are no Italian soldiers left in Egypt, the Sudan, or Kenya Colony, "except as prisoners." To this can be added the further statement that the remainder of Graziani's army in Libya must soon fight or surrender, while Fascist troops in Ethiopia, meeting opposition from Haile Selassie's patriots in many parts, are finding themselves in serious difficulties.

It would be interesting to know how Mussolini feels as he surveys the dissipation of one of his fondest dreams. He put on a bold front for a week or so after General Sir Archibald Wavell launched a new type of blitzkrieg early in December. The official radio in Rome dismissed the first days of the British offensive by telling the Italian people "the loss of a few miles of desert" meant "absolutely nothing." Sid Barrani had suddenly become of no military value; Sollum descended to the status of a frontier outpost; Bardia, only a short time previously, was "not only the defence of the gates of Libya" but also "the defence of Fascism"; it became a "place of no importance."

Propagandists Gayda and Ansaldo then began to mark down the price of Tobruk—the second best harbor in Libya—to something approaching basement bargain figures; whoever possessed it would be at a grave disadvantage. On this basis of evaluation of the Italian retreat, of course, General Wavell could expect nothing better than serious reverses if he were so foolish as to press on and capture Derna and Benghazi. And if and when he makes the greatest mistake of his military career by running up the Union Jack over Tripoli we shall expect the Rome radio to announce that the original promise of Signor Mussolini of victory "from the Alps to the Pyramids" was a carefully-laid trap to catch the stupid British. We have not yet heard the propaganda version of the bombardment of Genoa and the diversion British parachutists caused when they dropped into the province of Apulia last week and probably "disturbed" the great Apulian viaduct on the operation of which some 2,500,000 Italians of southern Italy depend for their water supply. But we presume this attack on the nation's Achilles heel, like the Royal Air Force's visits to Naples, Turin and Milan, already has gone down on the record as a new link in the chain of Italian victories—that, as the Rome radio said a month ago, "whatever happens, the fate of the British forces in the east is sealed; Britain has made a great mistake; we have not yet played our last card; we have full confidence in the Duce."

Perhaps Gayda and Ansaldo are now busy on their masterpiece—preparing for the day when they will record the terrific defeat of the British after they have reduced some of the great Italian war industries and other military objectives to rubble, when British forces land in Italy in sufficient numbers only to find that Naples, Turin, Milan, Rome and Venice are merely just so many towns without value. But if that chapter should be written, it will be in the form of dictation to Il Duce from the Italian people—his investment with the order of the boot.

Some Imagination Wanted

RISE AND SHINE IS THE TITLE OF the five-minute program with which the Vancouver studio of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation precedes its three-minute news bulletin service each week-day morning. But a few seconds of the preliminary are used up in the transmission of what is described as a "personal message" from the Department of National Health at Ottawa—to the point and useful; more of us perhaps might heed these simple exhortations with profit. However, out of all the large collection of magnificent records on the shelves of the studio, why is it the official presumably in charge of the program selects, eight mornings out of 10, some "musical" monstrosity which is either "swing" or "jazz" or whatever makes discordant pot-pourri? This morning, for example, after American stations had given the news—including the flight of large Royal Air Force bombers on a pamphleteering raid of Nazi-occupied Poland—CBC listeners in British Columbia were treated to something about a "senescent gentleman from Jawgia." Admittedly, the younger generation appreciates what in these days does justice for dance music; but we waver few of these are in the mood for this type of entertainment at 7.25 a.m., especially on Monday. CKWX, one of Vancouver's private stations, gives an excellent and varied program of British selections, both humorous and classical, but, of course, no news. CBC's regional director for this province surely could improve the early morning fare—or tell the Department of National Health to prescribe something that will curb an occasional desire to heave a brick at the delicate instrument which transmits its bulletin of world happenings.

If the Fascists in Eritrea continue to be pushed toward the Red Sea, they will be wishing they had a Moses instead of a Benito.

Turkey Hesitating?

ALTHOUGH TURKEY ANNOUNCED A week or so ago that if German troops were to occupy Bulgaria, on any pretext whatsoever, she would consider her interests jeopardized, reports are now insisting that she will refrain from any active move unless her territory shall be attacked. On this definite point, however, the Ankara government has been notably silent since it became known that the administration at Sofia had succumbed to the blandishments of Hitler and his gang. Not that this should be taken as a sign that Turkey will stand idly by if the axis position in the Balkans should be improved by the removal of Greece under the pressure of a heavy Nazi drive. The original declaration of policy given by Prime Minister Refik Saydam after Britain and Turkey negotiated their agreement would seem to hold as good today as it did four months before war broke out. The head of the Turkish administration said then:

"The basis of Turkish policy has been, as far as possible, to keep clear of eventual calamitous events and maintain a neutral and pacific position. But events having penetrated to the Balkan Peninsula"—he had in mind the seizure of Albania by Italy on Good Friday in 1939—"and having menaced the security of the Mediterranean, Turkey could not remain indifferent and neutral. This is why we have resolved, together with other powers having interests in the Mediterranean, that this sea must be considered as common property. It is a question of security and a necessity to prevent the possibility of the establishment of a hegemony in the Mediterranean."

Much has happened since the Turkish Prime Minister uttered the foregoing in the Parliament at Ankara in May, 1939, but the position now, with Turkey's western neighbor in the role of victor over the Mediterranean aspirant for the hegemony of which M. Saydam spoke, would seem to be such that Ankara need experience no qualms as the government decides its course in respect of the Bulgarian-German accord. Egypt is safe; the whole Islamic world is witnessing the thorough humiliation of the brutal man in Rome who had set himself up as its protector. Surely Turkey will not exchange the removal of the original threat for the threat of a potentially greater one—when she is immeasurably stronger than she has been at any time since the establishment of the Republic.

Steel Production

BECAUSE OF THE GREAT DEMAND FOR steel for the Dominion's armament industry, it was feared several months ago that a shortage of this important commodity might soon develop in this country. It is now realized, however, that this is scarcely likely to be the case—not, at any rate, in the immediate future—and not at all if the situation shall be intelligently handled. Several factors account for the outlook:

Canadian steel mills evidently have done everything within their power to increase output. Production increased from an annual average of 1,300,000 tons during 1935-1938 to approximately 2,000,000 tons in 1939. At present, it is estimated that the steel industry is able to produce at the rate of about 2,225,000 tons annually. In addition, extensions of plant and equipment have already taken place or are under way which will further increase output. The second factor which has prevented an immediate shortage of steel is that the United States government has made it possible for Canada to obtain considerable quantities of this product. It is to be expected that nothing will be done by the United States government to interfere with a further free flow to the Dominion. The third important factor which has helped to keep the supply adequate up to the present time is the fact that there has been curtailment in private demand, especially in building activity.

In spite of the fact, however, that a shortage of steel has not yet developed, a number of leading steel industrialists are not optimistic in regard to the more distant future. They have indicated that while a crisis has been postponed, a shortage may eventually develop. Under conditions as they exist at this juncture, it is evident that the industry in Canada is producing more steel than is needed strictly for the rearmament program. At the same time, it is evident that, in spite of the great efforts made by the Dominion so far the production of armaments has by no means reached a peak level.

THERE CAN BE NO TRIFLING

From Ottawa Journal

Let it be understood by everyone that the war still can be lost; we, like the French and other brave peoples, can suffer the ignominy of defeat, the loss of all the things in life we value. The war has not yet been won because the Italians have been trounced in Albania and Africa. There still stands Hitler's Germany, grim, unbeaten, full of devilish tricks and utterly ruthless, bent on our conquest—on extermination of the British Empire. We shall not be safe until Germany is brought to her knees.

That process may be long, surely will be painful, and it cannot be accomplished without money—the quarters and dollars of all the people. This isn't a time when we can "let George do it" when we can assume "the rich" can finance the war. They can't, because there aren't enough rich people, and most of what they make already is being taken in taxes. The money must come from the masses of the people, from you and me, from the clerk and the factory hand, from the butcher and the baker, from the widow and the boys and girls earning for the first time.

If it means sacrifice, what of it? Can we conceivably match by lending money the sacrifices of the people of the United Kingdom, whose concern with the outcome of the war is no greater than our own?

WASHINGTON, D.C.

ONE VIEW OF IT

AMERICAN CIVILIZATION, when you come to think of it, is an amazing thing, unknown to itself or to the world. You can only observe tiny facets of it from time to time and wonder what the whole is really like, inside. One of the most interesting (and exhausting) facets is a public hearing before the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate, on a big day. I was through such an experience yesterday and am still limp. Yesterday was Mr. Willkie's day before the Senate, and nowhere else, in no other country, could you have seen such a spectacle.

We entered on the coat tails of a United States senator. He was a young man, tall and broad, a former football star. If he hadn't been we should never have entered at all, for the public started to assemble on the steps at 7.30 in the morning. By noon you would have thought it was Coronation time over again. The Americans take their heroes very seriously, and properly so.

Mr. Willkie appeared about 2.45 (the show was supposed to start at 2) and willingly offered himself for butchery to make a Senate holiday. He was hoarse, as usual, talked in his curious midwest accent ("The American people!"), but he was a changed man since I saw him last. Then he was undergoing the inevitable compromises, hedges and wriggings of a presidential campaign, contradicting himself every night and having a pretty bad time. Now he was free to say precisely what he pleased, and he had come home from Britain loaded to the brim with a new vision of the British people.

BACKGROUND

HIS STATEMENT to the Senate was magnificent. No man could have said more for the British people. No man could have done a better job for Britain. No man could have sensed better the essential meaning of the war to America. But of course you have read all that. What you missed was the human background.

The human background at this point was standing on frail chairs which wobbled and collapsed sideways. The human background was eating chocolate and drinking milk to keep from starving after the long wait. The human background, including this reporter, was being carried through the mob on the coat tails of muscular senators, aided by policemen who worked in flying wedges. The human background was swarming into every aisle and corner. A beautiful and statuesque blonde was sitting on a high step-ladder, offering a remarkable sight. An old gentleman next to me was chewing one stick of gum after another in his excitement and then throwing them down on the marble floor, where they were quickly absorbed by women's slippers. A gentleman with a foreign accent was muttering behind me a running comment on Mr. Willkie, whom he did not like, and saying mysteriously over and over again that he knew who wrote the lease-lend bill. (This was evidently supposed to be something pretty sinister.)

FROM ABOVE

UP IN FRONT we could see Mr. Willkie, almost lost in the jam, hundreds of reporters about him, cameramen crawling about the floor to get "angle shots" of him, movie cameras grinding, flashlights going off. Above us, on a marble coping 100 feet from the floor, an enterprising cameraman had crawled like a fly and kept dropping down his used paraphernalia. Something which I took to be a flashlight bulb hit the head of an old lady next to me and she emitted a squeal and retired in the arms of her friends, complaining bitterly. Some black chemical stuff kept sifting down from the cameramen into my eyes.

Mr. Willkie likes these mob scenes. He threw his leg over the arm of his chair, dragged huge volumes of cigarette smoke down into his lungs, grinned at the crowd and glared at the senators who tried to make a monkey of him. They didn't succeed. They only made a monkey of some of his speeches last autumn, and when finally Willkie admitted that they sometimes were, after all, only campaign speeches, and grinned like a schoolboy caught playing hooky, there was nothing more you could say. The isolationist senators gave it up as a bad job. The foreign gentleman behind me muttered that he could tell who wrote the lease-lend bill if he wanted to. The old lady came back, rubbing a lump on her head. She was bound to see Willkie.

MY HEARTH

Flashing, gleaming, flaring, glowing,
Sparkling, flicking, shooting, roaring,
Flames upon my hearth,
Shapes and faces, distant places,
Memories dear, vacant spaces,
Mirrored in my hearth.

Story telling, writing, reading,
Children playing, baby creeping,
All around my hearth,
Mother darning, sewing, musing,
Father browsing, nodding, dozing,
Dreams beside my hearth.

HITLER'S LOST WAR

TEN DAYS AGO Hitler delivered a speech in Berlin. In it made the following statements:

"We are in a war that we did not want."

And: "England! I continually offered a hand to England! That was the very point of my program!"

Those two statements are exactly true. Hitler is in a war that he did not want, and a war that is against the very point of his program.

This does not mean that Hitler did not want war. He did. He prepared for war with a totally mobilized nation for seven years. But he did not want this war, he did not believe that this war would come to pass, he does not believe in this war, and he is convinced that by it he cannot accomplish his purpose. He is a man and a prodigiously powerful army amuck in the world, completely without bearing.

He continues to talk about his New Order, because the idea obsesses him. He does not know how to create a New Order, because all his calculations have gone wrong.

CALCULATIONS

We know exactly what his calculations were. It is not a matter of guesswork. He expounded them over and over again for years. They are set forth with complete lucidity in "Mein Kampf." They were the basis of all his negotiations and all his political moves from the beginning of his career. They were as follows:

1. Germany must make a united Nazi Reich, embracing all the indisputable Germanic population of Europe.

2. She must raise the standard of the Nazi revolution against Communism, and fight for it as a world concept. Without a successful world concept she could not win the war.

3. Germany's inexorable enemies are France and Russia. Without a totally defeated and impotent France, her greater aim could not be realized, which was the colonization of European Russia, and a continental hegemony from the Urals of the Channel.

4. Germany cannot fight successfully against a world alliance and has only two natural allies: Great Britain and Italy.

5. Italy, though a weak state by nature, has been vastly strengthened by Fascism.

6. It is wholly in the interests of England to make an alliance with Hitler. England's natural enemies are France, which owns and controls the Channel ports, and the United States, which is bound to lay claim to the Atlantic Ocean and challenge England there.

BY VIOLENCE ONLY

Aim No. 1 succeeded, and neither England nor France interfered to stop it. But aim No. 2 was an absolutely integral part of Hitler's whole strategy. Hitler the revolutionist early came to the conclusion that violence by itself could accomplish nothing. "The use of force alone without the driving power of a basic conception can never destroy an idea and its spread except by complete extermination of its very last adherent. . . . For experience shows that . . . no persecution carried on without an intellectual basis spurs precisely the most vital part of the people to protest . . . and, indeed, all attempts to uproot a doctrine by violence with no intellectual basis are failures."

This conception is argued at length in "Mein Kampf," and the conclusion is both implicit and explicit: He must either utterly destroy his enemies or convert them to National Socialism, and thus bring them voluntarily and as allies into his hegemony.

The extermination of the Slavic countries and of France corresponded to his racial theories. Hitler considers the French to be permeated by negro blood and all Slavs a natural slave folk. He goes into this explicitly and at length in "Mein Kampf" and in numerous other writings. But his race doctrine regards the Scandinavian countries, Holland and England as equals of Germany; in these countries he wished to raise the Nazi flag of revolution, England, in particular, was a "Herrenvolk"—a Master People—by blood, therefore by nature.

Hitler, therefore, had his first revolutionary and racial theory as well as his military-strategical theory crossed when Britain took up arms against him and was followed by the Dutch and Norwegians, whose flags still fly with Britain's. According to his plans, all of these countries should have gone Nazi and joined him.

Hitler was so convinced of the truth of his own doctrines that he was certain the British would not fight.

"PARTNER"

Hitler now finds himself with a defeated France, but he also finds himself at war with England and in a pact with Russia. But Hitler considers alliance with Russia to be suicidal. He bitterly attacked the Bismarck policy of war against the west with the active or passive support of Russia.

"Russia is no ally in the struggle of the independence of Germany. From a purely military standpoint the alliance would be disastrous . . . its result would be the end of Germany. . . . One does not form an alliance with a partner whose only interest is the destruction of the other."

The words are Adolf Hitler's.

"YELLOW FIST"

If we look back over the program, what do we see?

1. The Volkstaat, or Populist Reich, embraces all the indisputable Germanic populations of Europe. But it ceases to be a Volkstaat when it must become a military police for the whole continent!

2. The Nazi revolution has failed in the places where he hoped to see it flourish. It is precisely in the North Atlantic states that Hitlerism as a doctrine is most universally rejected.

3. Hitler has Russia on his neck and has so exploited the friendship in propaganda that it is inconceivable that he will ever be able to turn the German masses against Russia. Hitler himself is now spreading Russian-Communist propaganda half the time.

4. Britain is the flag-bearer in the campaign against Hitler, not his ally.

5. Italy has not been strengthened by Fascism, but horribly weakened by it. Leland Stowe describes Italy as a "corpse held up by Germany."

6. England is still fighting for a free France, and the United States is backing her to the hilt. Hitler's prophecy was that Britain would clasp hands with Japan against the United States! He said, "All ties of affinity cannot prevent England from anxiety in regard to the constant growth of the American Union. British statesmanship awaits with fear the time when the slogan will be 'The Ocean for America!'"

Therefore the yellow fist is eagerly grasped and all hope is staked on an alliance which is perhaps, from a racial standpoint, unjustifiable but which from a national political viewpoint offers the only possibility for the strengthening of the British position against the growing influence of America."

Far from wishing for a less growing American influence, the Churchill government prays for its extension! And it is Hitler who is eagerly "grasping the yellow fist."

he said a few days ago, "I did not want this war." He certainly did not. He wanted an entirely different kind of war. This war has destroyed his ideology—the only Nazis outside Germany are traitors, and if they are not he is forced to mow them down. He fights the Rumanian Nazis in Rumania because they want, curiously enough, Rumania for the Rumanians!

With Russia at his back, he is forced to wage a war of extermination upon the people whom his racial concepts and his strategic concepts least desire to see exterminated. He is not a man with a war but a war with a man, and, since nothing turned out as he planned, he does not know what to do with the outcome.

Gassy Stomach So Distressing

A Western Lady Suffered Daily — Food Turned Sour — Had Sluggish Kidneys — Now Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved Her and She Says: "I Want to Endorse It to All!"

Painful gas and bloating—indigestion after meals—sleeplessness—burning sensation around heart—weak, worn-out feeling—difficult breathing—choked feeling in chest due to gas—these are some of the penalties of an upset stomach. Many Victoria people have suffered in that way for YEARS. But now, Mosby's Tonic is relieving them by thousands. This "New, Scientific Medicine," is now being introduced to the public daily here in Victoria at the Cunningham Drug Stores.

Mrs. Collins

For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Florence Collins, of 71 Broadway West, Vancouver, B.C., made the following statement. This well-known Western Lady's Testimonial, praising Mosby's Tonic, follows:

Suffered Many Years of Stomach Distress

"The first thing I want to say in this statement of mine is that I am giving it of my own free will," said Mrs. Collins. "I had been suffering for many years with stomach trouble. The gas pains in my stomach were almost more than I could stand. I suffered after EVERY meal. My food would turn sour, and then sharp gas pains would follow. I could hardly eat. Also had trouble with constipation and pains in my back. My kidneys were very sluggish and my liver was so inactive that I would have bilious spells and I always felt weak and tired. I read so much in the papers about Mosby's Tonic that I decided to give this medicine a trial. Now I am here to say that all of those gas pains have left me. I can eat a hearty meal and there is no suffering afterward. My food is digesting perfectly. Bowels are regulated and the pains are gone from my back. I don't have the bilious spells like I did and I have more energy and strength. Mosby's Tonic has done all of these things for me after other medicines failed. I feel like a new person and I want to endorse Mosby's Tonic to others who suffer as I did."

Acts on Bowels, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 20 ingredients, including 15 Roots and Herbs. It acts on the bowels, stomach, liver, kidneys. Makes weak, worn-out people feel different all over. The price of this New, Scientific Compound is reasonable, due to the immense volume in which it sells. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at the CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Sts., and also sold by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Tall red tapers in silver sconces graced each end of the table and tiny colonial bouquets were set at intervals around the edges, each with red hearts pendulant.

'The Tempest' Will Be Given Friday

The students of Victoria High School are busy with final plans and rehearsals for the school's production of Shakespeare's play "The Tempest," which will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights, February 21 and 22. The cast, which includes 30 players, under the direction of Miss E. G. Cameron, have been rehearsing constantly and the dress rehearsal is to be held on Wednesday night.

Under Harry Dee the scenery is being painted, props being assembled and lighting effects arranged.

Costumes are being fitted and busy hands are sewing the materials, under the supervision of Miss J. Roberts and Miss Hoskyns. Costumes for "The Tempest" are especially elaborate, particularly those of the masque. The Goddess Juno will wear a long white flowing robe; Ceres, goddess of the harvest, will look lavish in a golden robe, while the Goddess Iris will be a bright, airy figure in her gown of rain-bow-hues.

All students are busy publicizing the play, under direction of the Council Publicity Committee. A blackboard poster competition is in progress and besides advertising the play, gives the rooms a bright and suitable atmosphere.

A group of eight dancers, nymphs and reapers are practicing their interpretive dance, under Miss Doult. The girls' chorus, under Miss Douglas, is rehearsing their back-stage singing to many scenes.

CHURCHES CONFER

A rural dean conference of the Victoria Deanery was held last Friday evening in St. John's parish hall in Victoria, a large and representative group of the clergy and laity of the district being present. The chair was taken by the recently-appointed Rural Dean of Victoria, Rev. O. L. Jull, who was congratulated on his new appointment in the name of the Deanery by Archdeacon Nunns.

After prayers and the singing of a hymn, Archdeacon Nunns gave a forceful address on the need of energetic action in connection with the finances of the diocese, to avoid a deterioration in the present situation in a few years' time, and he introduced certain suggested changes in the present financial system. These were further explained by Rev. F. Pike, rector of St. Luke's Cedar Hill, who urged the need of a campaign of education in the parishes of the district. These proposed changes were then considered in detail by the meeting.

The Rural Dean expressed the hope that conferences would be held more frequently in the future, and that those who came to them would find at them some fresh inspiration to take back to their parishes. He hoped also that the spirit of fellowship would become intensified among the members.

The Dean of Columbia, the Very Reverend S. H. Elliott, then told the gathering of work which had been done with a view to spreading throughout the diocese the work of intercession for the needs of the diocese. Recalling the continued interest in the daily intercession held in the Cathedral in connection with the special needs of wartime, he said that

People in the News

New Navy Assistant

RALPH A. BARD of Illinois has been nominated by President Roosevelt to be assistant secretary of the United States Navy.

Bard, 56, a Republican and a long-time friend of Navy Secretary Knox, was nominated to succeed Lewis Compton.

Announcing this, the White House disclosed Compton had resigned January 10. He has been ill for some time.

Bard is now president of Bard and Company of Chicago and of the Wahl Eversharp Pen Company.

He is also a director of the American Shipbuilding Company and the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Company.

Sees Dangerous Period

RODRIGUE, CARDINAL VILLENEUVE, urging contributions to the Dominion war savings campaign, said the evils "to fear in the after-war period may be avoided, or at least lessened, if we practiced better at the present time the virtue of democracy, under the inspiration of Christian faith."

"Even in our country, and without cultivating pessimism, we have need to fear this after-war will be one of the most dangerous," he said.

brought on by the war, he said: "Perhaps never have we so cultivated luxury and vanity. Never has the youth of both sexes shown itself more unforseeing. Never were the theatres, money games, amusement places more frequented. Never did the sellers of alcohol have a more prosperous business, to the great detriment of health, morals and order in society. It is necessary to put a stop to this waste of money and of life. It is in the days of abundance it is necessary to put aside for time of sickness, of scarcity and of privation, according to Holy Scripture.

"Federal authorities have just launched a new campaign to strongly encourage all citizens to economize part of their salary each week by using it to buy war savings stamps. Practically all citizens can afford to contribute and this will permit them, during the probable crisis, to bear up under the blow."

Hope for the Bald

DR. EARL R. NORRIS and DR. JAMES HAUSCHILD have isolated a hair-raising new vitamin called inositol which, when given to bald mice, has caused their hair to grow.

No human experiments have been conducted yet, however, since some of the mice died under the treatment. The new discovery was described by the doctors at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Herbert Hoover's Plans

HERBERT HOOVER said in Chicago a new experimental plan for supervised feeding of the Belgian people, and possibly persons in other German-inhabited countries, had been submitted to the British and German governments.

He said the new plan was evolved to overcome objections voiced by the belligerents in the rejection of previous proposals of the committee.

"If we can make this experiment work in Belgium," he said, "then such a plan can be extended to the other democracies."

Willkie to China?

WENDELL L. WILLKIE is considering making a trip to survey embattled China.

Associates of the 1940 Republican presidential nominee said he wishes to follow up his flying survey of conditions in Great Britain with a trip to the sections of China which are not occupied by the Japanese.

Questioned about the report that he would fly across the Pacific to study conditions in China, Willkie declared: "There is nothing definite yet. I expect to return to the practice of law in the near future."

'Fairnest and Squarest'

L. W. BROCKINGTON, special assistant to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, said every dollar spent for victory was money spent to build a world "no longer haunted by horror."

"Every ounce of energy spent, every dollar of money we save or spend for victory, is energy spent and money loaned and saved not only for victory, but to maintain the rights of labor, to safeguard the freedom of the land, and to build a world no longer haunted by horror, where little children may play in safety, where men can work in dignity and honor, and where our hearts will laugh once again," he said.

He thought Canadians would agree the "fairnest and squarest" people in the world were the common people of Britain. In the same way, he thought Canadians would prove the most "generous and idealistic people" in the world.

"In our hearts we all believe that every humble little home raised for the shelter of the plain ordinary man and every stone in every little English church is worth all the Berchtesgaden erected by slaves for the protection of tyrants.

"The things we cherish are today being bought with death—the death of those whose perils we may not share."

Letter Carriers Hold Celebration

Sixty postmen held a banquet and concert in Spencer's Saturday evening in celebration of the golden jubilee of the founding of the Federated Association of Letter Carriers and the 40th anniversary of the organization of the local branch.

Work of the association to better conditions for letter carriers across the Dominion was described by F. C. Hurry, secretary of the local branch and district vice-president of the British Columbia group in reply to a toast by C. W. Tubbs, a member of the executive committee, to the association.

Mr. Hurry compared the working conditions and rates of pay of letter carriers from the time of the organization of the association in 1891 to the present. The association had a membership of 77 branches, the speaker said, and each branch should co-operate to the fullest extent for betterment of conditions.

A program of entertainment was presented under the direction of Eric Paver. The program follows: Tune Termites composed of Ernie Fullerton, David Armstrong and Morris Varco; Ernie Crawford, magician; M. Gosnell, harmonica solos; K. Clark, vocal solos; Bert Case, piccolo solos; Alf. Adams, comedy; Mrs. C. Payne, comedy; swinging sergeants, Bob McGill and Fred Usher, songs.

TWILIGHT RECITAL

An interesting and varied program was presented by the choir of Belmont United Church, under the leadership of Miss Dermo Baillie, at the twilight sacred recital at First Baptist Church yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Bryce Wallace presided and opened the program with prayer. The assisting artists were Mrs. R. H. Nash, A. W. Trevett, J. Bell, Sidney Chiverall and the Warncliffe Trio. Mrs. A. Thomas and Jack Smith were accompanists, the latter playing the offertory, "Gavotte in D," one of his own compositions.

Next Sunday's recital will be given by First United choir.

During air raids over Chungking, capital of republican China, tunnels of the area are reported large enough to shelter the city's 420,000 people.

HORSE RACING in North America will certainly benefit as a result of the war. More than 300 English and French thoroughbreds, stallions, brood mares and active campaigners, have been imported to Canada and the United States since the outbreak.

A number of them are in training at Santa Anita and Hialeah Park, and several may figure prominently once they get the hang of North American ways.

They went in more for distance in England and France. Speed is stressed on this side. The foreign horses were not schooled to dash out of the gate. They were rated slower the first part.

They were on turf. On many courses they ran the reverse way steeds run here. Used to straightaways, and right-handers, the invaders must learn to negotiate corners that are strange to them.

Louis B. Mayer's Hunter's Moon IV, winner of the last traditional Caesar's Stakes in England, is training well at Arcadia. . . is perhaps the most prominent foreigner ever to enter the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, scheduled on March 1.

Saint Andrews, which arrived from England last August shell-shocked and at a reported cost of $50,000, was temporarily on the shelf with bucked shins, but, phenomenal workouts moved him up among the contenders for the Hundred Grander.

Saint Andrews is nine years old. One of that age never won such an important event, but the Valinda Farms is high on Saint Andrews.

Andrews being a factor in the Santa Anita.

George Walsh's Chico, British refugee, is being conditioned on the southern California strip.

Only imported animals showing anything at Hialeah Park are Heliopolis, Bolivar, Raphael II and Piping Rock.

Heliopolis, a five-year-old bay horse, by Hyperion and Drift, is owned by Elmer Dale Shaffer's Coldstream Farm.

Heliopolis, bred by Lord Derby, brought with him as fine a record as any English animal to reach these shores with the possible exception of Papyrus.

As a three-year-old in 1939, Heliopolis won the Chester Vase, finished third in the English Derby to Blue Peter and Fox Cub, and then topped three in a row, the Prince of Wales Stakes at Ascot, the Princess of Wales Stakes at Newmarket and the Gaiwick Stakes at Goodwood Park.

Heliopolis, which will lug 123 pounds, appears the best of the foreign lot being pointed for the $50,000 Widener Cup, March 1.

Bolivar, owned by Banker William Woodward's Belair Stud, has won twice over the grass course at Hialeah. . . appears to like running on grass only.

Raphael II, four-year-old by Rodosto-Philomela, won two of five starts in France. . . three out of four in the U.S.

Joseph Early Widener bought Raphael II as a yearling in France for 275,000 francs.

Junior Grid Action

Junior and interscholastic gridgers hit their stride Saturday in two hard-fought games which packed all the excitement of a senior battle. National Rollers downing Oak Bay Blue Devils 9 to 6, and Oak Bay and Saanich fighting to a 11 to 11 draw.

Nationals presented a vastly improved team to that which took a 27 to 12 beating by Alumni last week.

After a slow start the Rollers, sparked by the fighting spirit of quarterback Don Garrison, buckled down to a fight to the finish.

It was either team's game up to the last few minutes, though with Blue Devils battling equally as hard as the Rollers, but lacking the scoring punch. The Oak Bay boys reeled off two 50-yard invasions of Nationals' 10-yard territory, but failed to go over on both.

Blue Devils started fast, took advantage of two fumbles by Garrison, and at the six-minute mark of the quarter, scored a touchdown. Running and plunging back Bob Wallace did the trick, after he and Siki Sturrock, fullback, had faked and smashed the leather to the one yard line. Wallace went through the middle of the line on the touchdown charge. He missed the extra point kick, leaving the score at 5 to 0.

It didn't last for long. Rollers were ahead before the quarter ended when Garrison snatched a 10-yard pass from halfback McKim around his knees and ran 40 yards for a touchdown, brushing off tacklers one by one as he raced for the goal line. He kicked the extra point to put his team in the lead 6 to 5.

Oak Bay tied things up two minutes after the start of the second quarter when Sturrock kicked from Nationals' 25-yard line and Garrison was fouled attempting to run the ball clear.

Three minutes after the start of the third session Nationals wound up scoring when Garrison, still fighting his heart out, kicked a dandy field goal from about 35 yards out for three points.

In the last quarter Blue Devils staged their big marches with Wallace, Sturrock and Bill Dunnaway, running half, doing the ball carrying with good support from the line. They went to Nationals' eight-yard line once and the 12 yard line another time but failed to score. Several passes were completed from Sturrock to right end Joe Kelley. Big plunger Ned Sparks' absence from the line-up was felt. Little quarterback Vic Murdoch was a treat to watch on tackling.

In addition to Garrison, both Ed and Art McKim shone in running and kicking for Nationals. Ernie Dyer played a nice game also. His tackling was the tops.

CAUGHT BY A WHISKER
Oak Bay had Saanich beat up to the last few minutes. They were leading 11 to 10 when Bob Amos recovered a blocked Oak Bay kick and ran from his own 30 yard line to Oak Bay's 25 yard line before Squires brought him down from behind. Toad Atkinson kicked and Macfarlane took the ball in Oak Bay end zone. He ran it out to the one-yard line, but the extra point for a rouge was given Saanich when blocking interference was called against Oak Bay. Macfarlane's run. This tied the game.

Saanich scored first in the opening quarter when Atkinson fell on a blocked return kick in Oak Bay's end zone. Atkinson missed the kick for the extra point.

In the second quarter Squires ran 40 yards around his end for a touchdown. Wright kicked the extra point to put Oak Bay in the lead 6 to 5.

Oak Bay scored again in the third quarter when Woodhouse completed a 25-yard pass to Curry who ran the ball to Saanich's two-yard line. Woodhouse went over from here making the score 11 to 5.

In the final quarter Amos went over for Saanich on a power play to make it 11 to 10. Atkinson missed the kick again. Then came the rouge point by the tying minutes to tie the score.

Jim Smith was referee; George Deacon judge of play and Fred McNeely head linesman.

PATRICK BACK IN BIG SEVEN

Bill Cowley of Boston added another assist during the week-end to keep a nine-point margin at the top of the National Hockey League's individual scoring race when the second-place Syl Apps of Toronto closed in a little with one goal and three assists.

Bryan Hextall of the Rangers, helping on one goal, held third position alone while three other players moved into a tie for the next spot when Bobby Bauer of Boston and Detroit's Syd Howe each gained two assists and Eddie Wiseman of Boston scored once. Three players—Lynn Patrick and Neil Colville of the Rangers and Toronto's Sweeney Schirner—also tied for the last Big Seven berth, with Patrick getting a goal and an assist while Colville got one assist and Schirner increased his goal-total to 20 with a pair of markers.

Three Flights Daily

Lodestars to Speed Up TCA Services

Trans-Canada air business has developed to the point where Trans-Canada Airlines will be stepped up to three transcontinental flights daily this spring.

This was announced today by Samuel J. Hungerford, Montreal, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways, and president of Trans-Canada Airlines, following arrival in the city yesterday on a spring inspection tour of the west.

Mr. Hungerford is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Schon, who plans to stay over in Victoria in the interests of her health; Walter S. Thompson, director of publicity, who flew to the coast, and G. J. Strickland, the president's private secretary.

"The tri-daily service will be inaugurated this spring with the delivery of the six new Lockheed Lodestar planes to the company," said Mr. Hungerford of the TCA development plans. At the present time TCA operates two planes daily across the continent.

INSPECTED NEW PLANE

On his arrival in Vancouver, Mr. Hungerford inspected the first of the new Lodestars, the first of the new machines he had seen, although two have been turned over by the builders at Winnipeg. The remainder of the half-dozen planes will be delivered within the next few weeks. The Lodestars will carry 14 passengers, three more than carried by the Electra 14s. They are more powerfully engineered and longer.

"We are operating nearly to capacity now," said Mr. Hungerford in elaboration of the company's air extension plans. "The percentage of occupancy is just as great as the American lines."

The new planes and the increased service, it was explained, is designed primarily to speed up the country's war effort. In the delivery of air mail, for instance, the time is cut to a minimum, a vitally essential factor when a country is at war and using its maximum of manpower and industrial resources.

Other TCA developments in the immediate future, Mr. Hungerford explained, included the doubling of the service between Montreal and Moncton, N.B., and a proposed new service between Toronto and New York, for which license application has already been made to the Civil Aeronautics Authority governing plane operations in the United States.

WAR SAVINGS

Railwaymen are doing their part in the war savings campaign, said Mr. Hungerford, who has been advised that some of the Canadian National departments are contributing 100 per cent.

The industrial war effort in the country is being assisted in every way possible by the Canadian National Railways, said the president.

The St. Malo shops in Quebec were turned over to the government at the beginning of the war. A new plant devoted solely for the manufacture of war products has been erected in connection with the Pt. St. Charles shops at Montreal. This plant is so designed that after the war it can be used without delay as railway car shops. The Ft. Rouge and Transcona shops at Winnipeg are also being used in connection with war industry.

Coming from the snow-wrapped east and sub-zero temperatures, Mr. Hungerford appreciated the sunshine and mild weather in which Victoria is basking. He said he would like to extend his stay on Vancouver Island, but business calls him back, leaving for the east tomorrow night.

Following his arrival in the city yesterday afternoon, Mr. Hungerford talked over local conditions at the Empress with St. J. Munroe, divisional engineer; R. A. Bell, transportation assistant, and Charles F. Earle, district passenger agent.

This morning Mr. Hungerford played a round of golf with Mr. Earle at Colwood.

No Wage Boost For Policemen

Applications of several city departments for wage increases, or cost-of-living bonuses, received their first answer today when the city police commission refused the request of the police department.

"The commission considered the matter and all points raised in respect to wages," Mayor Andrew McGavin, chairman, said today. "We have come to the unanimous decision that at the present time it is impossible to raise police wages."

The decision covered the police department only. Wage consideration has also been sought by the fire department, the City Hall outside staff, the City Hall Officials' Association and the City School Board Employees' Association.

WANT 10 NATIONS UNITED FOR PEACE

Stating the reign of the Christ alone can dispel the hatreds and distrust of nations and bring lasting peace to the world, James Bay United Church congregation last night passed the following resolution recommending it be adopted by the Presbytery:

"Now therefore we, the congregation of James Bay United Church, hereby humbly pray our governments to endeavor to find nine other governments willing to initiate the reign of the Christ internationally by consummating the marriage as explained by Jesus Christ, and to call the 10 into convention for that purpose, thus enabling these nations to take their place on the right-hand side of Christ and become the nucleus from which the international reign of Christ may be implemented as soon as sufficient power is gathered to do so."

SCOUTERS' DRIVE GAINING SPEED

Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs of Victoria will turn out 1,000 strong on Saturday to collect every available empty medicine bottle in the city and district. The result of the day's work, which is expected to amount to 10,000 containers from one to 16 ounces, will be turned over to the R.C.A.M.C. at Esquimalt. Bottles need not be sterilized, and those with bottles who are not called upon, are requested to leave them at the Scout headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, between Vancouver and Cook Streets.

Scouters of Vancouver expect to garner a harvest of approximately 100,000 containers, these to be put aboard a barge of the Vancouver Barge Transportation Company, for shipment to Victoria. A. C. Burdick of this city made arrangements for the transportation.

This campaign for bottles has been in progress throughout Canada since last autumn, and the forthcoming drive will be one of the biggest efforts organized. Other island towns participating are Nanaimo, Duncan and Port Alberni.

VICTORIA TO HAVE BLOOD SERUM BANK

Jubilee Hospital will have a blood serum bank in the near future. It was announced today following inquiries as to whether or not Victoria was following the steps of most of the larger United States and Canadian cities in collecting and preparing blood for aiding wounded in England.

The serum bank will be used for local purposes, and not for collecting blood for shipment abroad.

Neither the St. Joseph's or Jubilee Hospitals have been approached by the Red Cross Society, which is calling for volunteer donors in many cities, with a plan to store and prepare blood for war work.

Willingness to co-operate in any such scheme was voiced by officials of both hospitals though. Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent of Jubilee Hospital, said the blood serum bank which will be set up at the institution as soon as apparatus is received, will fill a great need.

"The serum can be given any patient without classifying their blood, and its results are extremely good," he said.

Supplying of blood for aiding war victims in England is being carried out on a large scale by the Presbyterian Hospital of New York in answer to a request by the British Red Cross.

Blood is donated by volunteers from all walks of life. The blood is separated, the plasma or fluid part of the blood, being taken for shipment. The plasma is especially valuable in cases of shock which causes a physiological blood-change which transfused plasma cures.

Exchange Sends Travelers West

Canadian exchange regulations will play a big part this year in promoting eastern tourist travel to British Columbia, according to provincial tourist officials.

Inquiries at the travel bureau indicate that traffic from the east may reach an all-time peak because of the regulations which prevent Canadians from taking large amounts of currency to the United States except for emergency.

The Big Bend Highway, completing the Trans-Canada Highway link in British Columbia, is being widely advertised as an attraction. Estimates of a big travel from the east are borne out by the experience of the winter which has shown record travel, officials state.

As an outgrowth of the interview the two counsel will seek to reach agreement on various features of the case to limit, as far as possible, the argument to matters relevant to the appeal and to the bare history of the issue.

It was believed the case now before the court would occupy it until it adjourns to Vancouver. Should the city case not reach it by that time, it might be heard here in April, it was understood.

At 4:55 Saturday afternoon Constables John Lund and Harry Mercer attended the scene of an accident at Princess Avenue and Douglas Street and found a north-bound street car in charge of L. CAPITOL THEATRE
Basil Radford and Naughton Wayne have built up a grand reputation as purveyors of a burlesque impression of the "old school tie" sport-loving Britisher. In "The Lady Vanishes" they delighted moviegoers and in "Night Train to Munich," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, they continue their amusing imitations. Stranded in Germany during the pre-war crisis, hostilities and threats of hostilities only find them perturbed at the thought of losing a precious set of golf clubs.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES
If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of letting these conditions become chronic. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores, or any druggist, a package of Hem-Roid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-Roid is highly recommended, is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk a chronic pile condition when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Clive Brook gives a superb performance in the new Capad production "Return to Yesterday," now at the Plaza Theatre.

It is a charming, romantic comedy adapted from "Goodness, How Sad!" the famous stage play by Robert Morley. In it, he enacts the part of an English actor who becomes a Hollywood idol and returns to this country to try and find the happiness which eluded him when he secured fame.

Produced by Michael Balcon and directed by Robert Stevenson, this A.B.F.D. release boasts one of the finest casts ever assembled in one picture.

'CITY OF CONQUEST'
ATLAS FEATURE
Both the old home front of the Jimmy Cagney, on 69th Street, and the tenement in which Scenarist John Wexley lived as a boy on 109th Street, New York, were recreated for part of the typical metropolitan background in Cagney and Ann Sheridan's co-starring film "City for Conquest" opening at the Atlas Theatre today. Wexley did the screen adaptation of the story from Novelist Aben Kandel's book, Anatole Litvak directed.

Produced by Michael Balcon and directed by Robert Stevenson, this A.B.F.D. release boasts one of the finest casts ever assembled in one picture.

INTRIGUING STORY OPENS AT YORK
All the thrills of those adventurous days when men dared all for love live again in "Under the Red Robe," an exciting, swash-buckling romance starring Conrad Veidt and Annabella, which opened today at the York theatre.

A colorful and epic photoplay, the Twentieth Century-Fox release is based on the unforgettable story by Stanley J. Weyman, a best-seller for many years, and on the stage play by Edward Rose. In its current screen incarnation, it stands out as the greatest adventure of an adventurous era, and a magnificent romance that set a million hearts aflame.

Combining the intrigue of "Richelleu," the romance of "The Scarlet Pimpernel," and the adventure of "The Three Musketeers," the picture tells a tale of scarlet intrigue that threatens a throne, with Conrad Veidt, acclaimed as one of the greatest actors Europe ever produced, as the dashing, audacious adventurer, Gil de Berault, whose sword strikes terror into the hearts of men, and whose smile brings love to the hearts of women.

Ann Sothern As 'Maisie' - Dominion
The most impressive cast to date for a "Maisie" picture is to be found in "Maisie Was a Lady," latest in the popular series, which opens Tuesday at the Dominion Theatre with Ann Sothern in the title role and Lew Ayres, Maureen O'Sullivan and C. Aubrey Smith heading the list of supporting players. Miss Sothern brings her customary zest and sparkle to the role of the wisecracking stranded showgirl, who this time loses her job as the "Headless Woman" in a carnival sideshow due to the antics of inept playboy Ayres.

'CHARLEY'S AUNT' SHOWN AT CADET
Arthur Askey's second starring picture "Charley's Aunt," which will be shown at the Cadet Theatre today, provides the famous little radio and screen comedian with one of the greatest and most successful comedy roles ever written for the theatre or screen.

Australia Out To Win War

The war is turning Australia into a continent of industry whose people have but one resolve—to beat Hitler.

Wartime embargoes against importation of pre-war luxuries and other goods have caused a tremendous industrial expansion in Australia, A. W. V. King, Australian newspaperman, said in an interview. Australians are taking the war "seriously, but calmly," he added.

Mr. King is en route to Britain to take charge of the London bureau of the Sydney Morning Herald. With him are James E. Mitchell and W. Flitter, members of the Morning Herald's news staff, and R. Everett, an accountant. All are to relieve men now employed at the Herald's London bureau.

"We are making things in Australia now that we didn't dream of making a few years ago," Mr. King said. "Industries are running full speed in the manufacture of many articles needed at home, as well as general war material ranging from rifles and machine guns to cannon. Unemployment figures are at the lowest level since the world depression."

The cost of living in the southern dominion has risen considerably since the start of the war, the newsman said. However, it is controlled by a price commissioner who regulates the prices of food, clothing and other necessities as well as rents.

"One of the heaviest burdens Australians have to face," he said, "is a greatly increased federal income tax, solely for war purposes. State income taxes, however, have remained unchanged and in some cases have even been lowered."

The Australian newsman said that the increased living costs, heavier taxes and other wartime hardships have only served to increase the determination of Australians to do everything possible to help Great Britain in the war. Mr. King said that Australians have been quick to volunteer for the armed forces, especially for the air force. They are very enthusiastic over the Empire Air Training scheme.

82 Were Lost On H.M.S. Southampton

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty has announced 82 officers and men lost their lives in the sinking of the 9,100-ton cruiser Southampton, which had to be sent to the bottom of the Mediterranean after a Nazi dive-bomber attack January 10.

The total dead and wounded was given by the Admiralty as 83. The vessel's normal complement was about 700. In her last engagement, the Admiralty said, the Italians lost a destroyer and the Germans at least a dozen dive bombers.

(The Southampton was reported hit in the same general engagement in which the aircraft carrier Illustrious was damaged by dive bombers.)

(The vessel, the fourth cruiser lost by Britain since the outbreak of war, was sunk by the fire of other British ships after flames broke out while she was being towed, crippled, to port.)

Spies Tipped Off on Shipping

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE

LONDON (AP)—Alarmed over ship losses described as apparently due to information leaks, Britain is launching a new campaign to ferret out spies and still tongues which drop tips to Axis agents.

"It is hard to pin things like this down," one source commented, "and it is inadvisable to cite specific cases, but too many times the bombing and submarine of merchant ships, warships or convoys have occurred under circumstances that looked as if somebody had found out something about ship movements they shouldn't have known."

He declined to estimate the proportion of the average of 62,000 tons weekly in merchant shipping losses believed due to tips by Axis agents, asserting: "When a newly-arrived ship is bombed in harbor or when merchant ships with a weak convoy or none at all are caught out it may be due to aerial reconnaissance, to an agent's tip or to luck, or all three. We want to eliminate agents' tips."

One favorite hunting ground for spies is said to be in compartments of trains operating out of port towns. An agent slides into one where he sees a sailor on leave and listens in on the conversation, in which the sailor may tell the name of his ship, where she has been, what cargo she carried and how long his leave is for, indicating when his ship will sail again.

Beside the trains, it was said, the agents haunt the docks, saloons, amusement centres, barber shops, lobbies where sailors on leave meet their friends and in places where there are telephone booths.

British spies are known to use many channels to get information out of the country. The most obvious of these are short wave radios similar to those captured from three agents the British executed last December. Another method is heliograph or flashlight signals from isolated coastal districts to German planes or E-boats (torpedo boats). A third method is by passengers or crew members on ships bound for neutral ports.

By counter-espionage and propaganda, the British say they are trying to plug leaks.

The Ministry of Information is sponsoring a series of motion pictures showing how spies pick up information and pass it on. More than 2,000 posters have been displayed on the docks warning against careless talk and the railways have posted 570,000 notices in compartments.

Student and Co-ed Die in Plane Crash

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Low-lying clouds shrouding the Berkeley hills were blamed unofficially today for the crash of a light airplane and the resultant deaths of a University of California student and his pretty co-ed companion.

The two, Kenneth Adams Kennedy and Doris Ann Thomas, each 21, took off from the Oakland airport in a rented plane Saturday afternoon for a half-hour joyride. Yesterday one of a number of planes searching for the couple sighted the wreckage high on a knoll near Baldy Peak, two miles from the little town of Orinda.

Kennedy's father, Kenneth A. Kennedy, was a district traffic manager for Pan-American Airways who died in the disaster of the Hawaiian clipper which disappeared in 1938 while en route from Guam to Manila.

Germans Claim Their Planes Busy

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command claimed successes in attacks against Britain's merchant shipping today and asserted 18 British planes had been shot down in the last two days.

The daily war bulletin claimed one submarine sent 11,000 tons of shipping space to the bottom and another 4,000 tons.

A 6,000-ton freight and passenger vessel was said to have been sunk off Peterhead, Scotland.

(British authorities announced loss of eight planes during the last two days. As is customary there was no comment on the enemy shipping claims.)

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command issued the following communiqué Monday:

"One submarine has sunk 11,000 tons of enemy merchant shipping space. Another U-boat, which as previously reported sank 20,000 tons, was able to raise her successes to 24,000 tons of enemy merchant shipping space."

"Reconnaissance fliers badly bombed and damaged a large merchantman north of Great Yarmouth and sank a small steamer west of Ireland."

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sat up and took a little more rallying nourishment today but its appetite was far from robust.

Xenophon Turned Soldier After Being Pupil of Socrates

One day, we are told, the famous old thinker named Socrates was walking along a street in Athens, and almost bumped into a boy with a very handsome face. Stopping to talk to him, Socrates asked many questions—about the location of the nearest market place, the cost of certain fruits, and so on.

Greek general and soldiers in the time of Xenophon.

To each question the boy replied politely, but he was puzzled when he was asked:

"Do you know where to find the Good and the Beautiful?"

"No," he replied at last, "I don't."

"If you will follow me," said Socrates, "you can learn."

The story goes on to tell us that the boy did follow the great teacher, becoming a pupil, at his school. Socrates "taught his pupils to teach themselves."

The boy's name was Xenophon, which is pronounced Zen-o-fun. He was to become a famous war leader.

Socrates and Xenophon lived 2,350 years ago. Perhaps the story of how they first met each other is not true, but it is known that the young Xenophon listened many times to the words of Socrates. In later life he wrote books about his teacher, and some of his writings can be read today.

Xenophon's mind, however, moved more toward action than towards thoughts about the Good and the Beautiful. He became a soldier and hired himself out for service in a foreign war.

At this point we must speak of that war. It grew out of a quarrel between two half-brothers in the Persian royal family. The younger half-brother, Prince Cyrus, believed there was a good reason why he should have the throne, but it had been given to Prince Artaxerxes.

About 13,000 Greek soldiers were employed by Cyrus to help him carry on the war. Most of these were Spartans, probably the best foot-soldiers of that time.

Xenophon was about 29 years old when he joined the army of Cyrus. With his comrades, he crossed to Asia Minor, and started on a march through Syria.

Tomorrow: A Prince and a Battle.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, February 18

Good and evil planetary aspects appear to balance in today's horoscope. In the early morning there may be a sense of futility. However, the configuration stimulates mental powers and imparts reliable foresight.

Again the stars seem to indicate that women should stay in the background of world events. This indicates that they are to foresee the need of careful training for the future. Once more war is to open new paths along which wives and daughters must move courageously. It is a time for nurses and physicians of both sexes to prepare for extra demands upon them. Girls should follow their natural vocations with the thought that they must succeed for the good of the nation. This universal idea should supersede petty personal desires.

It will become more apparent, as March advances, that in strong defence measures the nation will preserve its freedom. There are signs of danger through premature peace efforts on the part of the dictators. The radio is to become more and more helpful in warning and educating the public. Rumors will multiply as the dictators meet more and more complications. Sudden coups may be expected as secrecy and treachery aid the Axis powers.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of experiences which demand caution and restraint. Employees should be careful to observe all rules and restrictions. Children born on this day may be too fearless for their own good. They probably will have talents that herald genius but they must be carefully guided, for they may be erratic and self-willed.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: Yes. Many birds of the southern hemisphere go north toward the equator after their nesting season.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—For years my husband and I lived in a little two by four apartment, saved our money, hoping and praying that some day we could have a home of our own. Finally our dream came true. We got our little home and had the time of our lives planting shrubs and flowers, making little flag walks, building bird houses, etc.

Then came the neighbors, as the movies say, and wrecked our dream. First there were the mothers and fathers with their insatiable curiosity about us and everything we did. They put us through the third degree until you would have thought that we were fifth columnists at least and under suspicion of having bombs concealed about our persons.

Then the children started in, trampled down our precious flowers, and what they didn't wreck in the ground their dogs dug out. It made us sick to see the things destroyed that we had sacrificed to buy.

For protection we spent $100 for a fence that we didn't want and it turned out to be a place for the children to climb over and play on.

A NEW HOME OWNER.

Answer: Alas, it is only too true that only in a large and crowded city, where nobody knows anything about you, or cares anything about you or takes any interest in what you do, can you have any privacy. And nowhere on God's earth can you protect yourself against the depredations of children.

"Own your own home!" "Live in the suburbs for peace and quiet." They are the slogans we fell for, but now we envy the folks who live in the two by four apartments and only dream about owning their own homes. They don't have to have their property wrecked and their dreams trampled under careless people's feet.

To them a piece of sward that you spent your good money in planting and your time in rolling and watering, is not the thing of beauty that it is to you. It is just a good place for their ball team to practice. And why you are so fussy about having your windows broken by balls, they can't understand. It just shows you are an old grouch.

Letters From the Front

Cold and Hungry in Nazi-ridden France

Food is getting scarce, almost everything is rationed, and lack of fuel brings suffering from cold in France, a letter received in Victoria from St. Aignan, on Cher River, reveals.

Extracts from the letter follow: "We have a small house and are among the few who are fortunate enough to still have a little coal, so we can run our furnace a little longer, with as small a fire as possible."

"We used to think a room under 60 degrees was too cold to sit in. Now if we get a room up to 50 we are pleased with ourselves. Most of our friends have closed up all their houses, except for one small room in which they live, eat and have their family life. The poorer ones are sleeping in their kitchens."

"Food gets scarcer all the time, and we are now rationed for almost everything, even potatoes."

"We are not so badly off in the zone libre (unoccupied zone) as they are on the other side of the river. The nearer one gets to Paris the worse the conditions become. Paris is really suffering. Some rich friends of ours there having no heat in their apartment, have had to empty their water pipes and radiators, and really have not enough to eat."

"One man we know whose wife is here writes that there is meat only twice a week and to get the minute portions allowed for his son and himself he has to stand in line from 5 a.m. till he can get his chance to enter the shop and find out if anything is left for him to buy."

"Here our rations would be enough if the amount came that is counted on, but it rarely does. Hens simply won't lay, the cabbage, etc., are all frozen."

"In order to make butter we can only have skim milk; the whole milk being kept for children, old people and the sick, with a doctor's certificate. Our families have been sending us packages of food every week (from the United States) since the middle of September, but to date (January 6) not one has come through, though packages of newspapers and books, come through without trouble."

"Sam (her husband) is busy every minute, rushing all over the region on his bicycle, taking bread, milk, etc., to old women in the zone occupée, collecting here and there a couple of eggs, a rabbit each week which gives us two good meals, then horsemeat croquettes once a week, and some kind of poultry. These three things have not yet been rationed."

"It's amazing how many things which we used to think were necessities we find it perfectly easy to go without. We wear very thick clothes in the house and fur when we go out. We have two water pipes frozen and very pleased that only two are. The pump is broken and the water tanks are filled by hand."

"The St. Aignaises are making their New Year calls as usual. One can't wish friends a happy new year, but we wish one another a new year full of health and hope."

Rats Mean Money

LONDON — A rat-catcher can make £20 ($89) a week, a woman told a Clerkenwell magistrate, complaining her husband, who is of the craft, did not give her enough money.

WITH THE FORCES

Infantry Units In Need of Men

Two of the busiest places in the province at the present time are the district depot in the Bay Street Armouries in Victoria and the district sub-depot in the Seaforth Armouries in Vancouver.

Recruits for the various branches of the army are coming in a steady flow from all parts of the province and the resources of the depots are taxed to the utmost in order to receive these men, sort them out, document and clothe them and send them to the units for which they are destined.

Despite the large number that has been recruited since the first of the year, nearly 300 are still required. Four of the infantry units are still short of men and recruits are being called for by the Canadian Scottish, B.C. Regiment (D.C.O.R.), the Irish Fusiliers and the Rocky Mountain Rangers. Lieut.-Col. Aldworth, officer commanding the 2nd Batt. Rocky Mountain Rangers, is conducting a drive through the Kamloops area for men to fill up the ranks of his parent battalion. In addition to these the Searchlight Batteries on the coast are still looking for smart young men who are mechanically inclined and who want to learn a trade that will be useful to them for the rest of their lives.

These units have already trained a number of men in electrical work and in diesel operating and will have a number of vacancies. The Fortress (E. & M.) Coy., R.C.E., need electricians and fitters and this unit offers another really good opportunity to the young man who is interested in mechanical work. Signal units on the coast also need a considerable number of smart, well-educated lads who want to receive a thorough training in electrical work and all types of communication, including line and wireless telegraphy. There are also a few vacancies in the Field Ambulance for men who like this kind of work.

New registration stations have been opened and are now in operation in New Westminster, Cloverdale, Langley Prairie, Mission, Abbotsford and Chilliwack, under the supervision of Lieut.-Col. Williams, officer commanding the 2nd Batt. Westminster Regiment. Intending recruits can obtain offer of service forms at any of these points, together with the 23 other registration points that are operating in the province.

Direct enlistment can be effected at either the district depot in Bay Street Armouries, Victoria, or the district sub-depot in the Seaforth Armouries, Vancouver. In addition recruits at points which are not close to the registration centres can obtain offer of service forms and full particulars by writing to the district recruiting officer, Work Point Barracks.

Silver Paper Has Wartime Value

Mrs. Curtis, 1135 Johnson Street, has just received a report from England telling of the use to which silver paper is put.

John E. Moore, young scientist who evolved a process for converting silver paper into a new alloy for airplanes, is now using between 20 to 25 tons of this metal weekly at his factory, the only one of its kind in England.

The paper is converted into bars of aluminum or aluminum powder for incendiary bombs and flares. At one time the whole of this foil was exported to Germany.

Silver paper, after treatment, is also used in naval construction and as an ingredient in armor-piercing and shell-resisting steel.

CANADA SKI TROOPS PUT THROUGH PACES

OTTAWA (CP)—A powerful force of expert ski troops is being welded into the modern edition of Canada's active army to meet the possible contingency of a campaign amid the snows.

The innovation, military authorities explained today, was not prompted by fears of an enemy invasion of Canada, or to earmark these troops for an exclusive battle role, but rather as a measure of general preparedness.

"It is impossible to predict what the future may bring and it is our duty to be prepared for any eventuality," said Lieut. T. P. Gilday, former Montreal ski star responsible for this latest phase of army training.

Already 120 instructors have passed through the gruelling training course he conducts and these graduates in turn have imparted their knowledge to nearly 3,500 men in selected units of the active army. Approximately 15,000 men will receive preliminary ski training before the winter is over.

For five days a week the men live in the open. They sleep in improvised shelters, devised from canvas and evergreen boughs. Not allowed to take bread with them into the field, they bake their own buns and pancakes, mixing flour on a ground-sheet and doing the baking in mess-tins over a camp fire.

"What we need today are good, strong cross-country civilian skiers, capable of going 20 to 30 miles a day carrying a pack or, their backs, with a knowledge of woodcraft and the ability of travelling with the aid of a compass and a map," Lieut. Gilday said. He urged private ski clubs, which he said had been of great assistance to the new unit, to emphasize cross-country treks.

Belgians Training

Cornwall, Ontario, Reserve Training Camp, has been definitely chosen as the centre for the training of Belgians called to the colors by their country. Announcement to that effect was made today by the Belgian government representatives in Canada and the National Defence Headquarters.

It has been previously announced that the enlistment of Belgians in Canada would apply to those between 19 and 25 years of age. This is now extended to men from 19 to 35 years of age, inclusive, and volunteers will be accepted between the ages of commands will be entrusted with definite defence roles.

The instruction with regard to reserve units, not yet mobilized, emphasizes the importance of medical fitness in the personnel. Officers commanding are urged to see that a change from reserve to an active role can be carried out with a minimum of delay. This matter of medical fitness is also impressed upon the second battalions of active regiments, since the call for reinforcements may come at any time.

Supplementary to these instructions is the advice that all reserve units authorized to organize are liable to be mobilized for home defence in cases of emergency.

All reinforcements for the active army from the reserve must, of course, volunteer for their duty. The same practice will be observed when reserve units are mobilized. Only such of the members as will undertake active service will be included in their ranks. Only in the event of call to the defence of Canada are all members of existing units compelled to respond.

READ FROM WORKS OF SHAKESPEARE

Another in the series of Shakespearean evenings arranged by Allan Wilkie and Miss Hunter-Watts was held Friday night at the Victoria Truth Centre, a large audience of interested dramatists attending.

Variety marked the readings and recitations of excerpts from the works of the great English playwright and author and from the works of Sheridan and Walter de la Mare. Portrayals were excellently given, with both artists responding to the mood of the poems and passages.

The program taken from Shakespeare follows: Prologue to "Henry VIII" and scenes from the play, a scene from "The Tempest" and excerpts from "The Taming of the Shrew." Two scenes were enacted from Sheridan's "School for Scandal."

"Martha" and "Suppose" were the two of Walter de la Mare's poems that were read.

It was announced that the next and last program on March 14 will be a request program and will include scenes from "Measure for Measure" and "Much Ado About Nothing." Requests will be received by Mr. Wilkie at the Marionette Library.
